

THE PRESIDENT IN OHIO

This is His Third Primary Campaign

HE IS FIRST IN THE FIELD

To Present Arguments—He Declares He Comes Home for Justice—Ohio's "Only Boss," He Says, "Is With Roosevelt."

Cincinnati, May 7.—Under heavy skies that frequently spit rain, President Taft campaigned through southern Ohio yesterday.

He made ten speeches, many of them in the warm spring downpour that drove the crowds of country folk to shelter. From the time he left West Virginia and crossed into his home state, the president continued to tell his hearers why he broke silence and attacked Coolidge.

He covered again much of the ground he went over in Massachusetts and Maryland, occasionally bringing in new subjects.

He talked frequently about Roosevelt's charge that he was conspiring with bosses. He referred to William Flynn of Pittsburgh and Walter Brown of this state as two bosses with whom Roosevelt now has dealings.

"I don't recollect," he said, "that in the seven years Roosevelt was president, his path was strewn with the bodies of the dead bosses he had killed."

He also denied being controlled by the representatives of special privilege.

HUMAN SOCIETY OFFICERS.

Much Work Done in Washington County—Membership, 215.

The Washington County Humane society met in the Kellogg-Hubbard library in Montpelier last night for its annual meeting. The membership of the society is 215, Montpelier furnishing the most, 103, and Barre next, 10, while Northfield contributed 12. The president, W. W. Brock, reported work done in the case of 142 horses, 25 cows, 3 pairs of oxen, 1 cat, 4 dogs, 1 hog, one man posted and in detailed report stated that 5 horses had been disposed of by owners, 20 horses shot and 10 cases not as bad as represented. Twenty-one owners are now using horses regarding which complaint was made and all animals improving. There were 106 cases of lack of care and feed and eight cases of "too much whip," 19 lame horses, with fewer complaints about lack of blankets in winter. Pet cat found in steel trap and dog caught in trap, calf with leg tied on top of load of wood, lame oxen hauling lumber, etc.

Complaints have been made in various parts of the country that the horses used on the rural mail routes were in many cases unfit for work, and reports were asked as to the condition of such horses in this vicinity.

Officers were elected as follows for the coming year: President W. W. Brock; secretary, Miss Rebecca Wright; treasurer, Miss Rose Lucia; first vice-president, Rev. W. R. Clarke; second vice-president, Mrs. O. H. Richardson; third vice-president, Dr. V. B. Mayo of Northfield; directors, Benjamin Gates and Fred Gates, the list of vice-presidents and directors to be completed later.

WILL PROBABLY DIE.

Robert Marshall of Concord Struck by Electric Car on Saturday.

Concord, N. H., May 7.—Robert Marshall, a stone cutter, 43 years of age, is lying at the point of death from injuries received by being struck by an electric car on North State street Saturday evening. He had been to the business section of the street to do some shopping for Sunday and had nearly reached his home opposite Calvary cemetery on the return, when a forgotten errand came to his mind and he started back.

In crossing the street near the ward 9 house, he attempted to pass in front of an inbound electric, which struck him, inflicting injuries from which physicians say he cannot recover. The injured man was taken in the car to the hospital, where it was stated that noon that he was still living, but that his condition was such as to offer little hope.

BEEF TRUST TO DISSOLVE.

Reported Arrangement Made with Federal Officials.

Chicago, May 7.—The National Packing company, which figured largely in the recent trial of the Chicago meat packers, contemplates an amicable dissolution, according to a report in the federal building yesterday, following a conference between Ralph Crews, chief counsel for the company, and United States District Attorney James H. Wilkerson. Neither Mr. Crews nor the district attorney would discuss the conference.

LIKE FINDING MONEY

D. F. Davis Offers Popular Medicine at Half Price.

D. F. Davis, the popular druggist, is making an offer that is just like finding money. He is selling a regular 50-cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price. In addition to this large discount, he agrees to return the money to any purchaser whom the specific does not cure.

It is quite unusual to be able to buy fifty-cent pieces for a quarter, but that is what this offer really means, for it is only recently through the solicitation of Dr. D. F. Davis that this medicine could be bought for less than fifty cents. He urged the proprietors to allow him to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount. The result has justified his good judgment, for the sale has been something remarkable.

Anyone who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, specks before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure all these troubles. But if by any chance it should not, D. F. Davis will return your money.

Spring Humors

Come to most people and cause many troubles—pimples, boils and other eruptions, besides loss of appetite, that tired feeling, biliousness, indigestion and headache.

The sooner you get rid of them the better, and the way to get rid of them and to build up the system is to take

NO MORE DISTRESS

FROM THE STOMACH

Dyspepsia, Gas, Indigestion and Heartburn Go and You Feel Fine in Five Minutes.

Every family here ought to keep some Diapiesin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of indigestion or stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a distressed, out-of-order stomach five minutes after it is taken.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Diapiesin and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is at your drug store, waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapiesin contain more than sufficient to cure any case of dyspepsia, indigestion or any other stomach trouble.

SPORTING NOTES.

Pres. Navin of the Detroit American league baseball club announced recently that a deal had been closed whereby Bill Halley, long considered a hoodoo to the Tiger team, will be seen in the future in a Detroit uniform.

Ed. Walsh, the mainstay of the White Sox, took part in three successive games last week. All indications point to another successful year for the iron man.

A fan has been placed on league baseball at New Britain, Conn., on Sunday. Last Sunday two deputies appeared on the field and prevented the scheduled game between New Britain and Hartford.

Malcolm, the premier pitcher at Vermont, has been tempted with several big league offers. Big league scouts are on his heels every time the Burlington team essays out on trips. According to reports he will finish his college course before contemplating organized ball.

The wonderful showing of the Cincinnati Reds this year is attributed to Hank O'Day, the old National league umpire, who is working wonders with his new charge.

In the lineup of the Baltimore Orioles this season appear the names of Freddie Parent and Bob Unglaub, former stars when playing with the Boston Americans.

Gregg of Cleveland, who was one of the leading twirlers in the American league last year, is fast rounding into shape, after a poor start.

The ignorant fans who think that any sort of a smash that advances a runner is a sacrifice are still very numerous. They are as thick as autumn leaves right here in this city.

Bert Maxwell of the Highlanders has been sold to the Toronto club of the International league.

The Notre Dame baseball team is on a trip through the east, which will last two weeks. Vermont will tackle this strong team at Burlington May 22.

The headwork that allowed Neal Ball to pull off a triple play, unassisted, wanting when Ping Brodie of the White Sox run home with the winning run in the Cleveland-Chicago game at Chicago Sunday.

SLIGHTLY COLDER THIS WEEK.

Disturbance in the West Will Reach Atlantic Coast About Thursday.

Washington, May 7.—Temperatures slightly below the seasonal averages will prevail throughout the country during the coming week and will be accompanied by a normal amount of rainfall, according to the bulletin of the weather bureau. A disturbance that now covers the western districts, the bulletin continues, will move slowly eastward and reach the Atlantic states about Thursday. It will be attended by local rains and thunderstorms in the first part of the week in the great central valleys and the eastern and southern states. Considerably cooler weather will appear in the northwestern states Wednesday or Thursday.

CUTTING COST OF LIVING

How It is Done Abroad by Co-operation

PRESIDENT SUBMITS REPORT

France and Belgium Have Many Societies—The Prices Lower and Dividends Are Made for Consumers.

Washington, May 7.—Interesting information on the manner in which European nations are combating the high cost of living by organizing co-operative societies, were given in consular reports transmitted to Congress yesterday by President Taft as the second instalment of his former "High Cost of Living" message.

France and Belgium, the report says, have successful organizations among workers, where relief funds are administered and insurance against illness and forced non-employment is supplied. Southern France has many co-operative agricultural societies, which, aided by the government, supply farmers with machinery, either loaned gratuitously or purchasable on small payments. The organizations also buy the crops.

The co-operative system in France has also resulted in the ownership of a number of industrial plants by the workers themselves. The report cites cases at Lyon, particularly.

The effect the French co-operative societies have on prices of foodstuffs, the message says, is almost entirely in keeping them stable and at a fair figure, seldom being below the prices of the stores. In Belgium, however, the co-operative organizations sell lower than the markets, allowing members only to purchase and distributing nominal profits.

Funds are set aside for insurance, pensions, strike relief, etc. The movement in Belgium, the report states, dates from the growth of the Socialist and Labor parties.

Both the Netherlands and Denmark contain many similar co-operative organizations.

ALLEN JUROR CREPT OUT OF BULLET ZONE

Testimony of M. C. White at the Outlaw Trial as to Courthouse Shooting.

Withee, Va., May 7.—At the trial of Floyd Allen, the commonwealth yesterday continued its effort to show that the Allen gang had conspired to "shoot up the court and shoot down the law at Hillsville last March."

When the trial was resumed the prosecution placed on the stand M. C. White, a member of the jury which found Floyd Allen guilty in the Carroll county court.

White declared he had seen Floyd and Claude Allen, both of whom were conversing just before the shooting occurred.

When the firing began, White said, he dropped to his hands and knees and crawled out of the courtroom to the clerk's office adjoining. Thoroughly terrified, White jumped into the fireproof vault in the clerk's room and remained there until the firing had ceased. He declared he did not see the shooting.

FIRE WARDENS DISCUSS SITUATION

State Forester Hawes Advocates Establishing Lookouts.

State Forester A. F. Hawes of Burlington met the fire wardens of Washington county yesterday at Montpelier for an informal discussion of methods of fire protection. It was the unanimous opinion that if early notice was given of forest fires, such expense as $1,000 for fighting the fire in Dunsmuirton last year might be avoided. Had that been checked at the start the expense would have been not over $10 and two hours' time would have sufficed.

Mr. Hawes expressed the opinion that lookout stations should be located on peaks, with telephone connection, so that incipient fires may be located and the fire warden of that section be notified. He urged that the cost of the fire be ascertained in every instance possible, and if the local fire warden hesitated to prosecute the person found guilty of starting, the matter might be referred to the department to act. It is his opinion that a few prosecutions will do considerable toward stopping careless fires.

Mr. Hawes advised every town to keep on hand a shovel, a pail and a bucket for fighting fire, as many times those who come to aid are not provided with equipment. It was brought out during the discussion that railroads are being more and more made responsible for damage wrought to the soil and growth of the next crop by fires set by sparks from the engines, as well as for the actual loss of timber caused in this way. Courts are beginning to allow damages on this basis.

The wardens went over the situation in their own towns and a profitable meeting was held.

Stubborn Colds May Lead to Consumption

Did you ever have a cold that would not go away? Did you ever have a cold that prevented sleep, and made waking hours miserable? Eckman's Alternative is the proper remedy for such cases.

A simple, sure, and effective medicine where it is only a tickling in the throat; but when your chest is sore and simple remedies don't answer—then take Eckman's Alternative. Neglect often leads to more serious trouble; a case in point follows:

"Gentlemen: In July, 1905, I first noticed the conditions that showed I had Consumption. I lost weight rapidly; had a hollow cough, hemorrhages and very severe night sweats. My brother recommended Eckman's Alternative. In the fall of 1905 I began to take it. At this time I was perfectly well and robust. My appetite was good and my weight had increased from 110 to 140 pounds. Not a trace of my old trouble remains. I will gladly express the merits of this medicine to anyone."

(Signed) M. L. GERHARDT, Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa. For more evidence, for sale by all leading druggists and Red Cross Pharmacy, Barre, Vt.

TRY URIC-O FREE FOR RHEUMATISM

Don't Suffer Another Day When You Can for a Few Cents Find Out What Uric-O Will Do.

If there are still any sufferers from rheumatism in this country or wherever this paper reaches, that have not yet tried the wonderful rheumatic remedy, Uric-O, we want them to try it now at our expense. We firmly believe that there is not a case of rheumatism in the world that will not yield to the wonderful effects of Uric-O, and we want to prove it to every doubter beyond all possibility. The best way to do this is to give a large bottle of the remedy to every sufferer and let him test and try it to his satisfaction.

W. H. Willer, Bridgeport, Conn., is a firm believer in Uric-O. He says: "Uric-O is a godsend to suffering men and women. I believe it to be the only real cure for rheumatism, after months of terrible suffering with the disease I became entirely cured. Through the use of three $1.00 bottles that awful pain and swelling disappeared, and I am more than glad to tell others of this mighty cure."

If your trouble is only slight or if the disease has crippled you and is almost driving you mad, send your name and address to the Uric-O company, 518 State street, Binghamton, N. Y., and the large trial bottle will be mailed to you at once.

Write your name very plainly and please enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin to partly pay mailing expenses.

Uric-O is sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle.

MINERS SPLIT ON RATIFYING WAGE SCALE

Elect Delegates This Week to Tri-District Convention Called for May 14.

Philadelphia, May 7.—The call having been issued for a tri-district convention at Wilkes-Barre, on May 14, to consider the wage arrangement agreed upon by the sub-committee of miners and operators, the anthracite mine workers will this week occupy their time by electing delegates to the meeting.

Every local union of the miners' organization in the region will elect delegates in proportion to membership.

Sentiment on the question of ratifying the agreement in the face of the action of the executive boards of the three districts in voting it down, appears to be divided. Some of the local unions have endorsed the action of the executive boards, while others have appeared satisfied with the tentative agreement.

It is expected that some of the local unions will not instruct their delegates, but will leave them free to act as they deem best. The executive boards will hold a meeting at Wilkes-Barre on the day preceding the convention.

The total suspension of anthracite mining has now been in force five weeks, and it is probable two more weeks will elapse before the men return to work, providing they ratify the tentative agreement of the sub-committee of operators and miners.

SAYS BRYCE IS GUILTY OF DUPLICITY

Statement of Premier Asquith in Matter of Reciprocity and Tariff Letter.

London, May 7.—Through Premier Asquith the government yesterday repudiated the suggestion that Ambassador Bryce had influenced the Laurier government of Canada, in its reciprocity action.

Mr. Asquith, in the House of Commons, replying to a question by Henry Page Croft, said the Taft-Roosevelt correspondence on the subject of reciprocity was private and confidential, and there was no reason for believing the ambassador to the United States had anything to do with it.

Henry Page Croft, Rowland Hunt, Shirley Bunn, Sir Clement Kinloch Cook, Morton Griffiths and the others who are determined not to let President Taft's "blazing indiscretion" pass unnoticed, then gave notice that they would reopen the subject before last night's adjournment.

STRIKEBREAKERS IN CHICAGO.

Railroads Use 1,000 Non-Union Men as Freight Handlers.

Chicago, May 7.—Officials of the twenty-four railroads affected by the strike of 6,000 local freight handlers planned to resume the movement of freight yesterday with the assistance of 1,000 non-union men. Assistant Chief of Police Schuetzler has taken personal charge of the arrangements for maintaining order and has detailed a large force of patrolmen to guard all railroad property.

President Flannery of the freight handlers union declared that the strike would spread to other cities unless the railroads granted the demands of the men in Chicago. The freight handlers ask a nine hour working day, an increase of pay and a Saturday afternoon holiday.

Chief of Police McWeeny and Assistant Chief of Police Schuetzler conferred Sunday with representatives of the various railroads affected by the freight handlers' strike. More than a score of railroads were represented. Chief McWeeny announced that he would place Assistant Chief Schuetzler in charge of the situation in command of 450 policemen, who were detailed yesterday at more than thirty-eight freight houses to preserve order. General managers declared that freight would be moved in all Chicago freight houses to-day in spite of the action of the freight handlers. They also stated that they would make no attempt to meet the demands for higher wages.

An Affair Of Interest

By OSCAR COX

I had been graduated from a medical college and, unwilling to stem the current of competition in the practice of my profession in the east, concluded to go to the far west. My plan was to begin at the very outskirts of civilization and gradually work inward as I gained in experience.

I had traveled by rail as far as they would take me, then by coach, and was doing the rest of my journey on horseback to the settlement where I proposed to locate, when I met a man also mounted, who asked:

"Be you a doctor?"

"I am; but why did you suspect me to be such?"

"I didn't. A lot of us is out huntin' for a sawbones, and we allowed we'd ask every man we met, leastways, every man as looked as if he might be in a professional business."

"Well, what can I do for you?"

"Jim Turner and Cy Hardwick is goin' to have a shootin' match. They're goin' to do it in grand style. That is, they hain't goin' to shoot on sight, but by regular agreement. In all these high-mucky-muck affairs it seems they must have a doctor along to fix 'em up if they don't get killed. I don't see any use in such a feller, 'cause in this here territory when there's any shootin' goin' on the man as don't draw first usually gets killed. This way, please."

The man had turned and was riding beside me, when we reached a road crossing the one we were on, and he led the way into it. It was a singular case in which to begin a professional career, but beginners can't be choosers. Besides, I had come west partly to see a little of western life, so I made no objection to going where my guide took me. As we rode along I was curious enough about the cause of the affair in which I was to officiate professionally to ask my conductor for the facts.

"Oh, it's about a gal. Turner he seen her at a dance in a barn and tuk it into his head that he wanted her powerful bad. Hardwick he seen her ridin' behind a mule team, and he wanted her too. They was both drinkin' together at the Alhambra and told each other how much they wanted this same gal, and they got into a dispute about her, but before they came to a draw a gambler from Georgia he said it warn't respectable to fight about a lady in a saloon nowher. He advised 'em if the lady was to be mixed up in the matter to make an appointment to do the shootin' in a decent way. So they axed him how it had ought to be done, and he offered to manage it fer 'em. He allowed each man must have a second, as he called it, and there must be a surgeon on hand. So a lot of us fellers who was curious to see how one of 'em fine feathered shootin' matches was done said we didn't mind helpin'."

I asked him if the lady had shown any preference to either of the disputants, to which he replied:

"She couldn't very well show any preference when she'd never seen either of 'em, leastways to know 'em agin'. Sartin she hadn't never said a word to either of 'em."

"And they are going to fight for a woman who doesn't even know them?"

"Sartin! How would they decide the matter without a fight?"

"What matter?"

"Was, I dunno 'bout that. In this yere territory we hain't so particular what we fight about; it's the fightin' that counts."

In due time we reached a hamlet composed of four or five cabins, where we halted, and a man came out.

"Have yo' got a surgeon?" he drawled.

"This yere gentleman is one o' that description."

"Wal, I don't know as he'll be any use since that both Jim and Cy insist on the kind of a deal they're used to—that is, startin' in and emptyin' all their gun barrels into each other. But, since it's to be done accordin' to rule, we must have a surgeon. Come in, doctor, and take somepin to git the dust outen your throat."

I dismounted, and when I was told that the principals were only waiting for a surgeon to begin the fight, I declined to "get the dust out of my throat," since I might be needed, and liquor would not improve any skill I might possess. All were very much astonished to find a man who ever refused to drink, but as my arrival had been announced the parties concerned were slipping out for the fracas. The Georgia man placed them back to back, told them that on signal they were to march forward till he sung out "Time" when they were to turn and open fire. They were about to start on their march of death when the clatter of horse's hoofs was heard coming at a gallop. Eyes were turned in the direction of the sound, and when the corner was seen to be a woman all hands waited. She reined up before the party.

"I hearn," she said, "that you fellers was a-goin' to fight about me. I don't see no use fightin' about a woman as is married to a mighty good man and got two kids."

That broke up the duel. The woman took her two lovers home with her, where she said her husband was waiting for them with a demijohn.

There was great disappointment among those who had expected to see a real duel. I didn't practice long in that country. It was a trifle too near to nature for me.

Vacations for Everybody.

In an article on vacations in the May Woman's Home Companion, the author says in part:

"Horace Greeley said he had been twenty years trying to find time to go a-fishing, and a few years later he died from overwork and anxiety. Many a farmer lives all his life within sight of running streams, or within sound of babbling brooks, and the suggestion that he hang up his hoe and go a-fishing never reaches him. Thoreau says, 'The better part of man is soon plowed into the soil as compost'; and I have known some such lives. I know a woman who put her babies in a barrel and left them while she worked in the field with her husband. Together they paid off the farm mortgage, and then bought more farms and paid off more mortgages. They never took vacations. Neither of them ever saw a train of cars until the iron rails were laid through their own lands, and when the first train passed through the old lady was heard to say: 'Well, I have worked hard all of my life, but now I shall have it easy. I can just sit and milk and see the cars go by.'"

"Another family of my acquaintance, living on a large farm, with fifty cows to milk and care for, and five hundred hens to look after, finds time every year for an outing; rather, they hire extra help on the farm and take the time, and they do not take the time grudgingly, either. They figure that what the outing costs is the best investment of the whole year. They have their own tent, and camp for a week or more on a nearby stream or lake, where fishing and boating are good. A fairly good tent can be bought for the price of a week's board at a summer resort, and the tent will last many years. Vacation does not necessarily spell Nantucket. Distance sometimes lends a great deal of enchantment. We forget that the birds sing just as
